

DIPLOMA IN ANIMATION

Animation courses have become an ideal choice with the rise of the VFX and the virtual visualization of the big screen and other entertainment industries. Here is all you need to know about Animation Courses after 10th including the fees, colleges, jobs, and salary.

The best advantage of a Diploma in Animation is you can WFA (Work from anywhere) or WFE (Work from everywhere), there is the scope of doing freelance works aside without giving break for your duties, once you get hands full of experience. You can even choose to join any animation studio, advertising agency, gaming studio, media house, and TV and film production houses for various job positions.

In recent years Animation has become one of the most popular career options for students. It is an exciting field that requires skills of creativity, visualisation, storytelling ability and excellent technical knowledge to make an unrealistic world of imagination into a realistic one. It is the expertise of Animators and Multimedia technicians who have made movies like Avatar, Transformers, Chotta Bheem, etc. a huge success.

A skilled animator gives motion to still images by presenting them in rapid motion. It creates an illusion of motion for movie watchers. Animator gives life to cartoon and created characters.

Interested students can do B.Sc. Animation and Multimedia. After completing the course, the student can work as Animation Graphic Artist, Web Designer, Game Tester and Reviewer, Game Developer, Sketcher, Designer, Planner, Editor, Pre-Production, Post-Production etc. Nowadays the entertainment industry is booming, and there is a huge opportunity for employment in the sector. Animators can get a job in Production houses, TV channels, Design and Creative firms, the Video Gaming industry, IT software companies, etc. Here are the complete details about the B.Sc. Animation and Multimedia courses. The course is also known by the name B.Sc. in Animation and Visual Effects/ B.Sc. in Animation, Multimedia, and Graphic Designing/ B.Sc. in Media Graphic and Animation. Specialization is provided in 2D, 3D animation, and VFX.

List of Top-ranked colleges in Animation and Multimedia

Students must know about various colleges and institutions which offer this Animation and Multimedia course. Check below for some of the best colleges of Animation and Multimedia -

- BIT (Birla Institute of Technology)
- VIT (Vellore Institute of Technology)
- Westford Institute of Film Technology
- P.A Inamdar College of Visual Effect, Design and Art
- Vogue Institute of Fashion Technology

Some of the best Private Institute of Animation and Multimedia

- Arena Animation
- MAAC Animation

Admission to most of the Animation courses is done on a merit basis as per the marks secured in the qualifying exam (10+2). Some institutes conduct entrance exams where questions are asked from sections - General Knowledge, Drawing Life situations, Character Design, Storytelling through sketching, Skill of visualisation, Information Technology, Verbal and Non-Verbal Reasoning.